

Telemarketing

What's being done to let or sell your property?

An experienced team.

Our telemarketing team have over 40 years experience in the Office and Industrial markets dealing with the decision makers including Facilities Managers, Finance Directors and Managing Directors.

Over the course of a week three hundred plus (300+) such decision makers are contacted leading to market information and finding that elusive tenant/buyer.

A successful method...

- Cold calling all prospects
- Targeting the right demand groups
- Full report and result analysis post call
- Pro-active approach
- Part of an ongoing marketing strategy for your property
- Increased property exposure.

that works.

"As someone who works with many different companies, I have seen many examples of cold calling having phenomenal results."

"The most cost effective way to generate market intelligence and genuine leads."

"It's an approach that brings consistently exciting results."
